National Vision for ADRC Program

- To implement consumer-directed care through integration of aging and disability service systems
- To embrace the vision of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) – serve all ages & income levels (private pay, Medicaid, etc.)
- To develop programs that provide person centered, “one-stop” entry into the long-term support system.
- To increase knowledge of and access to long term supports and services

Core Components of a Fully Functional ADRC

1. Information, Referral & Awareness
2. Options Counseling and Assistance
3. Streamlined Eligibility Determination for Public Programs
4. Person-Centered Transition Support
5. Consumer Populations, Partnerships and Stakeholder Involvement
6. Quality Assurance and Continuous Improvement

AGING AND DISABILITY RESOURCE CENTER

The Aging and Disability Resource Center (ADRC) is a trusted source of information where people of all ages, abilities and income levels - and their caregivers - can go to obtain assistance in planning for their future long-term service and support needs. The ADRC is designed to empower older adults and persons with disabilities to make informed choices about their services and supports. Staff at the ADRC provide objective information and assistance to help people access private or publicly funded service programs.

ONLINE RESOURCE MANUAL INCLUSION / EXCLUSION POLICY

The Kansas Aging and Disability Resource Connection (ADRC) has designed a searchable public-access database on its website that allows consumers and professionals to learn about care options that are available to seniors, people with disabilities and their caregivers. This database, known here as the Provider Resource Connection, allows individuals to search for services that will allow them to remain independent in their homes and communities. The Provider Resource Connection contains information from all 105 counties in Kansas. Its topics range from 'Adult Day Services' to 'Wellness'.

Policy Statement

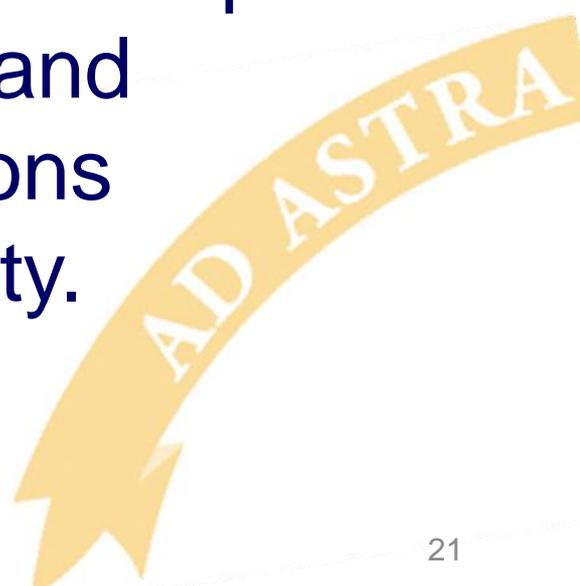

The purpose of this policy is to define the types of entities, i.e., agencies, organizations, providers and resources that are eligible for listing in the Kansas ADRC Provider Resource Connection. This policy is subject to revision or update at any time.

Disclaimer

Inclusion in the Kansas Provider Resource Connection directory does not constitute an endorsement of an organization, agency or service by the Kansas ADRC. Exclusion does not constitute lack of endorsement. The information contained in the database was provided by the organizations and agencies. To ensure accuracy of resource information, the Kansas ADRC conducts periodic updates of this resource database. The Kansas ADRC cannot guarantee the accuracy or completeness of the information. The Kansas ADRC reserves the right to edit information to meet format and space requirements. Only providers who meet the statewide inclusion/exclusion guidelines will be included in the statewide database. Final decision for inclusion/exclusion will be at the sole discretion of the Kansas ADRC. If an entity does not meet the criteria for inclusion in the database, the ADRC Program Coordinator will inform the entity by phone, fax or email.

Options Counseling

Helping individuals and their families understand their strengths, needs, preferences, and unique situations, and using this information to develop support strategies, plans, and tactics, based on the options available in the community.

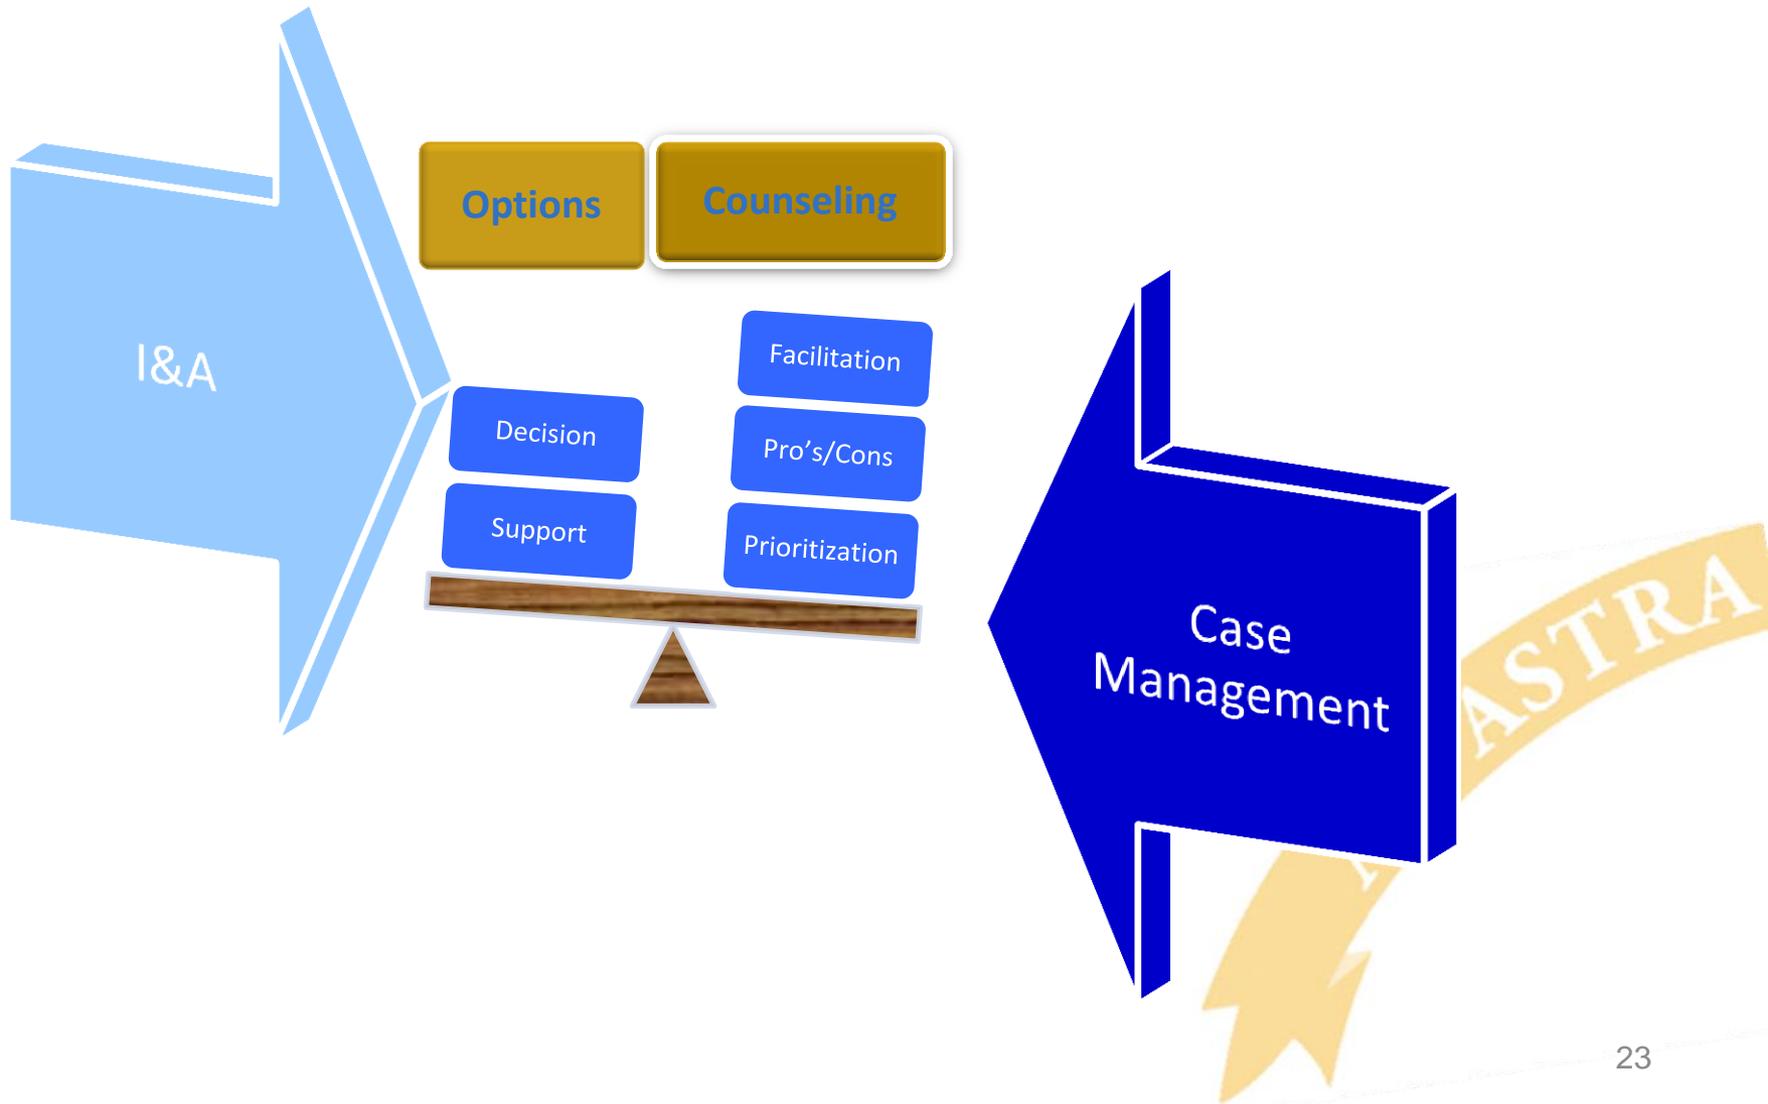

A yellow banner with a ribbon-like shape, curving upwards from the bottom right towards the center. The text "AD ASTRA" is written in white, uppercase letters along the banner.

AD ASTRA

Essential Components of OC

- A personal interview,
- Identification of desired and available options (including informal supports, public and private resources),
- A facilitated decision-support process (weighing pros/cons of various options, discussing values),
- Assistance to develop an action plan or LTSS plan that is directed by the individual,
- Connections to services and supports, and
- Follow-up, if needed

Options Counseling: In the Middle

How is Options Counseling different from I&A?

Options Counseling involves...

- Decision-support and facilitation
- Follow-up to determine client outcomes
- Providing intensive short-term crisis support as needed
- Tracking consumer outcomes over time

Community Transition Opportunities (CTO)

- Referrals for customers interested in information about returning to the community from a Nursing Facility.
- Referrals come from nursing facilities based off of MDS Section Q
- ADRCs complete face to face visits about Community supports and services specific to the needs of the customer at the NF

Level of Care Threshold Assessments

- Established with KanCare to ensure conflict free case management
- Assessors complete assessments with customers via a Functional Assessment Instrument (FAI) designated by waiver type—FE, PD, or TBI
- All waiver assessments and current CARE assessment are in development to be one universal assessment (MFEI)
